

EDITOR'S NOTE

374 Owing to a technical error in production, the Table of Contents, pagination, and material in Volume 32, number 2, was presented inaccurately. Nat Hardy's review article was listed there, but appears in this issue. Our apologies to readers and to Professor Hardy for any inconvenience this may have caused. Unfortunately, given our new process, which is designed to produce paper and electronic versions of the journal, we are making adjustments in typesetting, production, and printing and have been experiencing some growing pains. For instance, in the new design, starting with volume 34, number 2, the text files will be slightly compressed, so that issues of the same length as before will seem smaller and will be produced in fewer pages. May I thank all individual and institutional subscribers for your support.

Jonathan Hart, Editor