

News/Announcements

Evidence Based Library and Information Practice Releases Special Issue on EBL 101

© 2016. This is an Open Access article distributed under the terms of the Creative Commons-Attribution-Noncommercial-Share Alike License 4.0 International (<http://creativecommons.org/licenses/by-nc-sa/4.0/>), which permits unrestricted use, distribution, and reproduction in any medium, provided the original work is properly attributed, not used for commercial purposes, and, if transformed, the resulting work is redistributed under the same or similar license to this one.

The journal Evidence Based Library and Information Practice (EBLIP), now in the 11th year of publication, released its first special issue: an issue dedicated exclusively to the EBL 101 column, which ran in the journal from 2008 to 2015. The special issue is a compilation of all 24 columns published during this period, in their original form, in one place. The special issue also includes an editorial by Virginia Wilson, author of the vast majority of the columns.

The special issue was released on March 4, 2016 as an anniversary gift to the readers of EBLIP, past, present, and future. It is available on the journal website at <https://ejournals.library.ualberta.ca/index.php/EBLIP/issue/view/1571>. As with all journal content, it is available open access.