

News

Evidence Based Library and Information Practice (EBLIP) is Seeking an Editorial Intern

© 2020. This is an Open Access article distributed under the terms of the Creative Commons-Attribution-Noncommercial-Share Alike License 4.0 International (<http://creativecommons.org/licenses/by-nc-sa/4.0/>), which permits unrestricted use, distribution, and reproduction in any medium, provided the original work is properly attributed, not used for commercial purposes, and, if transformed, the resulting work is redistributed under the same or similar license to this one.

DOI: 10.18438/eblip29816

We are looking for a new Editorial Intern to assist our Editorial Team. The ideal candidate will be in place by November 2020 and will commit to serving a two-year term.

The role of the Intern is to:

- Provide a final editorial check of proofed copy before publication, using the pre-developed checklist
- Check and edit the item metadata on the EBLIP website to ensure title, author, and abstract correspond to the submitted manuscript
- Assist the Editor-in-Chief and Communications Officer with calls for papers or calls for volunteers
- Assist with investigation and implementation of new projects related to the journal
- Participate in occasional Editorial Team meetings

The ideal candidate will be an MLIS (or equivalent) student or a recent graduate (past two years) interested in evidence based practice and research methods, and who possesses strong attention to detail. The position requires dedicated time on a regular basis, and it is therefore essential that interested persons ensure available time to devote to this position prior to applying. It is estimated that the workload is approximately 10 hours per month.

Interested persons should send a cover letter, indicating areas of strength they would bring to the role, and resume/cv as a single PDF file to Lorie Kloda, Editor-in-Chief, at eblipjournal@gmail.com by October 9, 2020.

Specific queries about the role should be addressed to the current Editorial Intern, Kimberly MacKenzie at kimberly.mackenzie@umassmed.edu.

*Please note that Evidence Based Library and Information Practice is a non-profit, open access journal and all positions are voluntary and unpaid.

About the journal:

Published quarterly, and hosted by the University of Alberta, this peer-reviewed, open access journal is targeted at all library and information professionals interested in an evidence based model of practice. By facilitating access to librarianship research via original research articles and evidence summaries of relevant research from the library literature, Evidence Based Library and Information Practice will enable librarians to practice their profession in an evidence based manner.

Please visit the Evidence Based Library and Information Practice web site (<http://journals.library.ualberta.ca/index.php/EBLIP>) for further information about the journal.