

News/Announcements

Call for Proposals – 3rd Qualitative and Quantitative Methods in Libraries International Conference

© This is an Open Access article distributed under the terms of the Creative Commons-Attribution-Noncommercial-Share Alike License 2.5 Canada (<http://creativecommons.org/licenses/by-nc-sa/2.5/ca/>), which permits unrestricted use, distribution, and reproduction in any medium, provided the original work is properly attributed, not used for commercial purposes, and, if transformed, the resulting work is redistributed under the same or similar license to this one.

The 3rd Qualitative and Quantitative Methods in Libraries International Conference (QQML2011) will take place May 24-27, 2011, in Athens, Greece.

Since 2009, QQML has provided an excellent framework for the presentation of new trends and developments in every aspect of Library and Information Science technology, applications and research.

Papers are invited for this international conference. Key themes include, but are not limited to, the following:

- Management
- Financial strength and sustainability
- Marketing
- Communication strategies
- Data analysis and data mining
- Digital libraries

Special Sessions & Workshops

You may send proposals for Special Sessions (4-6 papers) or Workshops (more than 2 sessions), including the title and a brief description, to the Conference Committee at: secretariat@isast.org or via the electronic submission page at: <http://www.isast.org/abstractpaperregister.html>

Abstract/Paper Submissions

You may submit proposals for contributed abstracts/papers via the electronic submission page at <http://www.isast.org/abstractpaperregister.html>

Contributions could include one of the following:

- structured abstracts (not exceeding 500 words) and presentation;
- full papers (not exceeding 7,000 words); and
- posters (not exceeding 2,500 words).

In all cases, at least one of the authors is required to be registered for the conference. Abstracts and full papers should be submitted electronically according to the timetable available at: <http://www.isast.org/importantdates.html>

Abstracts and full papers should follow the author guidelines available at: <http://www.isast.org/abstractpaperregister.html>

All abstracts will be published in the Conference Book of Abstracts and on the conference website. Papers will be published on the conference website, with the permission of the author(s).

Student Submissions

The conference also offers postgraduate students and PhD candidates an opportunity to participate in a paper competition. Students who submit abstracts to the conference can participate, but can only submit only one paper to the competition. Students who enter the competition must register in the conference and be in attendance.

The papers will be judged by a scientific committee according to the significance of the research theme, the research methodology, the description of the results and the organization of the presentation.

Professors and supervisors are encouraged to organize conference sessions of postgraduate theses and dissertations.

Please direct any questions regarding the QQML 2011 Conference and Student Research Competition to Anthi Katsirikou at anthi@asmda.com or to the secretary of the conference at secretariat@isast.org.