

Supplement 2 - Interview Questions

Do you consent to proceeding with the interview? Verbal agreement required.

Reminder of survey (general overview of participants' mobile device use) – now a few questions that will try and gain a greater depth of the answers that you provided in the survey

Which mobile device or devices are you currently using to access drug or other health-related information?

I'd like to get a snapshot of how you use your mobile device in accessing clinical or medical information on a daily basis. Could you describe/talk about how do you typically use your mobile device to find information that informs/guides your work/study?

Prompting questions:

- a. In what situations do you find yourself most often using your mobile device to access drug or other health-related information?
- b. Do you typically find the information you need?
- c. How long does it take you?
- d. What works well?
- e. What does not work well?

In the survey, you discussed the 5 medical resources that you use most frequently on your mobile device. For these 5 apps or resources, what do you like about them? Why are they your top 5 most used?

Instructions

Ease of use

How did you find out about these?

When choosing medical resources for your mobile device, what criteria do you use to decide on downloading or purchasing an application?

Chance to trial

Content

Interface

Ease of use

Consulting colleagues, online reviews

Price