

Acknowledgments

---

The review process is essential to the quality of this journal. We thank the following people who reviewed manuscripts in 1988. Their thoughtful critiques contribute to the advancement of human science research and pedagogical praxis.

Loren Barritt, University of Michigan; Larry Beauchamp, University of Alberta; Vangie Bergum, University of Alberta; Janis Blakey, University of Alberta; Hans Bleeker, Rijksuniversiteit Utrecht; Alan Blum, York University; Robert Burch, University of Alberta; Terry Carson, University of Alberta; Therese Craig, University of Alberta; Lorene Everett-Turner, University of Alberta; Amedeo Giorgi, Saybrook Institute; Henry Giroux, Oxford University; Madeleine Grumet, University of Rochester; Steen Halling, Seattle University; Charles Hart, University of Alberta; Lous Heshusius, York University; Margaret Hunsberger, University of Calgary; Jan Jagodzinski, University of Alberta; Tom Kieren, University of Alberta; Carl Leggo, Corner Brook, Newfoundland; Bas Levering, Rijksuniversiteit Utrecht; Heather Lysons-Balcon, University of Alberta; June McConaghy, Edmonton Public School Board; Ray Morrow, University of Alberta; William Morse; Karel Mulderij, Rijksuniversiteit Utrecht; Antoinette Oberg, University of Victoria; John Osborne, University of Alberta; Caroline Park, University of Alberta; Valerie Polakow, University of Michigan; Marilyn Ray, University of Colorado; William Schubert, University of Illinois; Harvey Scott, University of Alberta; David Seamon, Kansas State University; Ron Silvers, Ontario Institute for Studies in Education; David Smith, University of Lethbridge; Stephen Smith, Simon Fraser University; Margaret van Der Pitte, University of Alberta; Max van Manen, University of Alberta; Walter Werner, University of British Columbia; John Willinsky, University of Calgary; Amie Zelmer, Capricornia Institute, Australia